

YET ANOTHER CASE!!

That must convince the most sceptical that
DR. JOHN BULL'S SARSAPARILLA
will cure Scrofula and fairly drive it OUT OF THE SYSTEM.

IMPORTANT TO THE PUBLIC!

I would most earnestly solicit all persons to read the plain unvarnished statement made by Mr. Joseph Leathermann, of the most remarkable cure on record. This wonderful case was cured alone by the use of and the cure was produced by the blood being effectually purified. This one instance alone will establish the reputation of Bull's Sarsaparilla beyond competition, as the best purifier of the blood the world ever produced. The original certificate, with the Clerk of Jefferson county's official seal attached, can be seen at my office, No. 1 Fifth-street. JOHN BULL.

JEFFERSONTOWN, JEFFERSON COUNTY, KY., February 25, 1850.

MR. JOHN BULL:—I cannot repress the joyous gratitude I feel in the recovery of my child, so long afflicted with one of the most distressing diseases that fallen nature is heir to. For six long years I have watched the ravages of the Scrofula in my child's constitution, and felt as a father feels for his suffering offspring. The disease at times attacking the eye until blindness succeeded, and at the same time emitting an acid water, that would blister the cheek, and after a time these blisters would become running sores, giving the intensest pain, and discharging quantities of this scalding water the same as that from the eyes, and beset with this kind of misery, the poor creature at times confined to the bed, and at others groping and feeling her way about the room, entirely blind.

She was treated by the best physicians I could get, both in the city and the county. Prescription after prescription, blister upon blister, setons, ointments, &c., she submitted to for six long years, and nothing could arrest the violence of the disease. I gave over all hopes of ever seeing my child but in the misery then upon her.

Prejudiced against patent medicines, I could not give my consent to listen to the swollen accounts of their advertisements, until, by accident, being at the house of my friend and neighbor, S. T. Miller, who had purchased some half-dozen bottles of your Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, he handed me one of your Journals, and seeing the frequent and numberless certificates testifying to the high repute of your medicines, I was induced, but, I assure you, with little faith, to administer it to my daughter, and soon I saw she was benefited. I continued it, and am free to say to you and everybody, that it accomplished a complete cure; and the daughter of Mr. J. D. Hastings, of Shelbyville, who was similarly affected, has been relieved, and also another, the daughter of J. N. Wright, of Louisville.

This medicine will certainly cure Scrofula when in its worst form.

I send you this as a testimony of the success of your medicine in this disease, and although unable to account for the manner in which this medicine effects its cure, still I have seen with my own eyes the perfect cure made, and know it.

Respectfully,

JOSEPH LEATHERMANN.

PRINTING.—The art of printing was first invented in 1441 by Faust. The first book printed was the Bible, and was the work of a number of years. Since then constant improvements have been made; but the contrast between the old ponderous wooden press and clumsy type of that age, and the beautiful type of our day, with Hoe's eight-cylinder press, driven by the tremendous power of steam, is greater than words can describe. When Franklin was a printer, it was a hard day's work to print 2,500 impressions; now it is easy work to print 20,000 in one hour.

 Gold and silver are metals quite too heavy for us to carry to heaven; but, in good hands, they can be made to pave the way to it.

A Voice from Columbus. LIVER COMPLAINT.

This is a very popular and rather fashionable disease in the western country, with doctors as well as patients. If a person afflicted with lassitude, fullness and pain in the right side, occasional nausea, difficulty in breathing, a dry cough, loss of appetite and flesh, sallow complexion, costiveness, and indigestion—all symptoms of derangement in the circulation of the blood, engorgement of the portal circle, and consequent obstruction of the biliary ducts, (being the first indications of a bilious attack,) the conclusion is, that he has the "Liver Complaint." Thousands have their health and lives sacrificed yearly, by taking prescriptions from the doctors, for that disease, drawn out in secret language and horse doses, disguised by hieroglyphic characters, which contain large quantities of calomel and blue mass, when they know in their very conscience, (if perchance they have any left,) that the result will be made of more injury than relief to the patient. By being dosed with such poisonous drugs the system is prostrated, (more so at this time of the year than any other,) the poor patient salivated, his limbs and glands sore and swollen, and in the attempt of removing one disease, ten spring up in its place.

It is astonishing that people will be so credulous as to allow themselves to be ruined by this tearing down treatment, when a few bottles of Dr. Bull's Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla, so pleasant to take, would, by its action upon the liver and blood vessels, have saved all their suffering, with salivated and toothless jaws, and perhaps life itself, and a long doctor's bill in the bargain.

This invaluable preparation is daily grappling with disease, and is performing the most wonderful cures ever known. No system under its influence, can be attacked with the cholera, or any form of disease, as has been fully established by the sale of over 1200 bottles in this city, within the past few months.

ANOTHER CASE!!!

SCROFULA CURED.

HENDERSON, October 18th, 1853.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have been afflicted for a number of years with a Scrofulous affection of the head and neck. I have consulted the most eminent physicians in our place in regard to the matter, but could get no relief. I was induced by a friend of mine, Dr. Thomas Johnson, who has tested your medicine, and is a strong believer in it, but owing to his deep-rooted prejudices against all patent medicines, has failed to give publicity to his experience in regard to the efficacy of yours—to try your Sarsaparilla. I procured a bottle of it, and used it with the happiest effect, and have continued its use to this day. I am now almost entirely relieved. I would recommend it in all cases of a similar nature. You may make what disposition you please of this certificate. If you think you can accomplish any good by its publication, you are at liberty to make it. Respectfully,

SAMUEL STILES.

OCTOBER 19th, 1853.

I cheerfully endorse the above statement.

THOMAS I. JOHNSON, M. D.

CONSUMPTION.

The chilling conviction of the incurable nature of this disease has checked the ardor of investigation, which, upon other occasions, has excited the exertions of the most learned and ingenious medical writers of the present age. Acting under the influence of this persuasion, the medical world have for centuries past made little or no progress in ascertaining the most rational and effective mode of curing it.

In the bills of mortality in the city of London, in 1845, three thousand and nine hundred and ninety-six persons are stated to have fallen victims to Consumption. This appalling list shows too plainly that the usual treatment is greatly defective, and it becomes the duty of the physician as well as the patient to try other remedies, especially when one can be obtained so truly safe and efficacious as Bull's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla.

The reputation of this medicine is now so well established that liberal minded men in the medical profession, both in this and other cities, recommend it to their patients as the best of all remedies for pulmonary complaints and physical debility; and it is generally received as one of the standard medicines of the day. It has also been introduced into the practice of many of our best infirmaries and other institutions, and has long since received the public sanction of most eminent chemists and professional men.

John Bull's Compound Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla is prepared under the immediate supervision of the proprietor, and is warranted to be uniform in strength and medical virtues, and to keep in any climate, and any length of time; and for facts concerning many of the wonderful cures performed by this truly valuable and matchless vegetable compound, the sceptical are referred to the many certificates in the hands of the agents.

ERYSIPELAS, DIZZINESS.

LOUISVILLE, January 13, 1848.

That is to certify that I was afflicted some time since with Erysipelas in my leg and Dizziness of the head to an alarming extent. Several physicians told me that I would lose my leg, and perhaps my life, if it was not checked. I tried several remedies as cures, but the disease continued to grow worse, until I was advised to use Dr. John Bull's compound fluid extract of Sarsaparilla, which acted like a charm. Two bottles have made a perfect cure, and my health is better than it has been for years. I consider it the best medicine in the world for the cure of all chronic diseases.

CHAUNCY BACON,

[35] Compositor at the Democrat Office.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

JOHN BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—This valuable medicine is gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity; and its unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. It has only to be fairly tested, to give it the preference over all other Sarsaparillas. As a purifier of the blood, it excels all other medicines; and the numerous certificates which have been voluntarily tendered to Dr. Bull, from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen of every class and profession, of high reputation, and who are well known to all by character, if not personally, is proof conclusive, beyond a reasonable doubt, that it has effected thousands of almost miraculous cures, in all the various diseases and forms of disease and human suffering for which it is recommended. The physicians of our place recommend its use (we believe almost without an exception), in preference to all other compounds purporting to be Sarsaparilla. It has been but a few months since it was first introduced here, and we are informed by those who keep it for sale, that it is more in demand than all other preparations of the kind. We have tested its merits ourself, personally and in our family, and confidently and cheerfully recommend its use to the afflicted. We say to all, give it a fair trial, and be convinced of its efficacy.—Charlestown Mirror.

By reference to our advertising columns, our readers will discover an advertisement of Bull's Sarsaparilla. We will say for ourselves, that it is a good medicine, for we have tried it; and we have no doubt we could obtain a score of people in our village, who would testify to the same fact.—Washington Democrat.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—We refer the attention of our readers to the lengthy advertisement of John Bull, in another column. This preparation of Sarsaparilla is fast winning its way into universal use, not only among the citizens of our city and State, but throughout the South and West generally. It is recommended by eminent physicians, and must doubtless yield a splendid fortune to the proprietor.—Democrat.

BULL'S FLUID EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.—We see that our friend Reynolds has received a fresh supply of this valuable medicine. We are well acquainted with Mr. Bull, seen him manufacture the medicine, and have used it in our family, and can therefore state that it does not come under the head of "patent nostrums," which are usually palmed off upon the public. It is what it is represented.—Memphis Evening Herald.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA is doing more good in this neighborhood than any medicine of a similar character has accomplished. Many of our acquaintances who have been using it, declare that the good effect it has upon them is so great, that no reasonable sum of money would be an inducement to relinquish its use. We have the genuine article for sale at this office. It is also for sale by Murphy & Robertson, Crabb & Ewing, and Dr. Grant.—Jackson County (Ia.) Advocate.

THE GREATEST MEDICINE OF THE AGE IS BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—We believe this medicine to be superior to any Sarsaparilla in the country. We know many who have used it successfully, and some who have been afflicted for years have been relieved, and are now in good health. As the public is convinced of its virtues, it is sought for, and Mr. Bull is receiving orders from all parts of the country.—Louisville Democrat.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—It will be seen by referring to our advertisements, that this most excellent curative is still gaining ground in the estimation of the public. Not a day passes, but brings in fresh testimonials of its triumphs over disease. It is very palatable, and seems more like an agreeable and refreshing beverage, than a highly medicated and potent restorative.—Louisville Journal of Commerce.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—We have frequently noticed Townsend's Sarsaparilla, but we are confident that BULL'S is not less deserving of commendation. Its effects in hundreds of cases in this city, prove it to be an invaluable medicine. Very many persons consider themselves wholly indebted to it for the health they enjoy. In numerous complaints, it is undoubtedly the best remedy that can be employed. This medicine is kept constantly on hand by J. B. Wilder & Co.—Louisville Journal.

BULL'S SARSAPARILLA.—We refer our readers to the notice of this universally popular medicine, found in our columns of to-day. Its virtue having afforded, to all those who have sought it as a curative agent, such universal relief from almost every disease to which the human system is heir to, is creating a demand for the article, having scarcely a parallel in the history of patent nostrums. To the sick and afflicted, the great remedy is, BULL!—White River (Ia.) Standard.

We copy the following from the Cincinnati Dispatch:—Every word said by it, as well as by our neighbors, in regard to Bull's Sarsaparilla, is strictly true. Orders for it are coming in from every State and Territory, by every mail, and such is the rapidly increasing demand for it, that although he has a strong force engaged in its preparation night and day, yet he cannot supply it as rapidly as it is required. One of the best recommendations of Bull's Sarsaparilla, is the fact, that where it is best known it is most highly prized.—Louisville Courier.
